

Postdoctoral Position

Asst. Prof. Michael Zhang at the University of Hong Kong's Department of Statistics and Actuarial Science is recruiting one post-doctoral researcher for a duration of two years. Applicants for this position should:

- 1.) Possess a doctoral degree prior to starting the post-doc.
- 2.) Have a strong record of published research in Bayesian statistics, machine learning, or computational statistics.

Applicants may look at <http://michaelzhang01.github.io/> to see Prof. Zhang's research interests. All prospective applicants must submit a CV, a statement of proposed research and one representative paper of your research to mzhang18@hku.hk.